

April 30, 1942.

Mrs. Katherine Williams,
409 Edgecombe Ave.,
New York City.

Dear Kitty:

I had to do a whole lot of running around to get these tickets for you, but I want you to enjoy the day. I know how easily you are upset, I was afraid you might feel badly if your party was not all together.

Keep your fingers crossed for a nice day for us. I will be glad to see you.

Very truly yours,

EM:CCJ